

Hisp. Fol. 3

Binding:

Original, made of parchment. Its dating should be identified as the period from the 1740s to 1828.

History:

The manuscript was made in the 1740s at the earliest but not later than in 1828, which is indicated, on the one hand, by the dates included in the text (1744, 1746) and, on the other hand, the fact that it is listed in one of the old catalogues of the Königlische Bibliothek in Berlin kept since 1818 with notes from the 1820s and the 1830s (Cat. A. 473). Furthermore, the manuscript does not have an accession number to the Berlin collection, which means that it was included therein prior to 1828 when the register of this institution's acquisitions was started. German documentation does not provide any information about the manuscript's provenance, so its earlier history remains unknown. The character of the manuscript indicates that it was probably reserved for personal use for practical purposes. The lack of indications as to the figure of the author or the copyists in the manuscript prevents us from identifying them. The only trace from the manuscript's past is a signature, most likely of one of the previous owners of the manuscript (Lic.[encia]do Valladolid) but this figure also remains unidentified. The approximate location of the manuscript (Spain) is based on watermarks.

Content:

The manuscript contains the dictionary of legal issues in the alphabetical order written in Latin with some fragments in Spanish. No other manuscript copies of the text or its printed editions have been located. Most likely the work has not been published yet. With reference to the manuscript deposited in Kraków, cf. Lemm, p. 93.
