

Ms. Gall. Oct 6

Binding:

Brown leather binding, contemporary with the manuscript. Covers and the spine decorated with gilded plant ornaments.

History:

The manuscript can be dated on the basis of filigrees of the paper with the data 1742. It is assumed that paper older than 10 years was never used, that is why we assume that the copy was written within 10 years after 1742. The motive on the filigree (a lilac flower) means that the paper is of French origin. The manuscript is not in the Berlin's Königliche Bibliothek accession register, which means it must have reached the library before 1828 – the year of establishment of the accession register. The above is confirmed by Friedrich Wilken (cf. "Geschichte der Königlichen Bibliothek zu Berlin," Berlin, 1828) who lists 10 French copies "in octavo" which could be found in the Königlichen Bibliothek before 1828.
